PORT ELGIN EDUCATION PROGRAMS

THE FOLLOWING GUIDELINES APPLY TO ALL EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS HELD AT THE FAMILY EDUCATION CENTRE IN PORT ELGIN, UNLESS OTHERWISE STATED IN SPECIFIC CALL LETTERS.

Leave-of-Absences & Lost Time

Leave-of-absences for all programs must be arranged through the Local Union. Wages will be paid to a maximum of 40 hours per week. No additional regular, scheduled or overtime hours will be covered by the program. If you should attend during a week containing a paid holiday, you should arrange a leave of absence for 4 days. The Company should pay you for the holiday, and the program will pay you for 5 days. You should arrange for a union leave for the extra day off in lieu of the holiday.

Accommodation

In order to maximize the number of participants in our courses and keep as many on site as possible, participants will be housed at the Unifor Family Education Centre on a double-occupancy basis.

All accommodations are based on a double occupancy basis. Double occupancy units are also equipped with a separate study room which includes a single fold-out “Murphy Bed” for those wishing additional privacy. (Exceptions to the double occupancy policy are occasionally made based on approved medical grounds, on a case-by-case basis, and are only granted once our Medical Form has been completed by the participant’s doctor and returned to us at least two (2) weeks prior to the start of their course. Once received, approval will be determined by the Unifor National Representative Education Department and/or Centre Director). Room-mate requests will be considered if the request is in writing, two weeks in advance, with confirmation from both parties involved.

Program Attendance

Attendance is mandatory in all scheduled program sessions. This includes Sunday evening opening which begins at 7:00 p.m., scheduled evening classes and the Friday morning closing session.

24 Hour Cancellation Policy

Failure to notify the Front Desk reservations (1-800-265-3735 press 0) of cancellations prior to 24 hours in advance will result in one night's accommodation being charged to the Unit Fund of the participant. Emergency situations, of course, will be exempt from this policy.

Students Affected by a Lay-Off

A participant is eligible to attend while on layoff provided that the period of the current lay-off did not commence more than six months prior to the beginning of the program. Earnings will be maintained by the unit fund and must be reported to EI as normal. (By-Law)

Students Affected by WSIB or Sickness & Accident Benefits

If a participant is on WSIB or Sickness & Accident benefits at the time of the, course, that person is not eligible to attend. (By-Law)

Harassment Policy

Unifor takes its responsibility seriously to ensure all union education programs are conducted in a harassment free environment. Discrimination and harassment are against the law, a violation of Unifor constitution, and contrary to the principle of solidarity. A zero tolerance policy with respect to harassment will be followed at all times during your stay at the Centre.

Substance Abuse & General Attendance

Unfortunately, experience has shown for some participants, being at Port Elgin has been an opportunity to party and drink in excess. This behaviour results in their inability to participate respectfully or fully in the program. The following behaviours have been especially problematic:

- Not showing up for class, showing up late and/or leaving the class often during sessions
- Being hung-over and sleeping during class or participating noticeably less than others
- Harassing others and justifying the behaviour on the basis of “too much to drink”
- Loud, late nights that disturb other participants

The National Executive Board (NEB) has made a decision to fully support the plan of the Education Department to quickly identify and act on the above noted behaviours. They have also authorized, when deemed necessary by the staff person in charge of the program, the removal of a participant(s) from the program. In order to be fair, everyone has to fully understand the rules. We cannot and will not allow the irresponsible behaviour of a few to undermine the hard work and genuine effort of the vast majority who attend Port Elgin Education Programs.

Illegal Substances

Any and all illegal substances are strictly forbidden. Use or possession of illegal drugs on site, either in bedrooms or elsewhere, will be cause for immediate removal of a participant from the program.

Travel Allowance & Per Diem

Travel by car will be paid at the rate of 48¢/km from the students' Local Union Office address. If you are part of a province wide or national amalgamated local union, mileage will be paid from your home to Port Elgin/return. Only one claim can be made per vehicle (PROGRAM By-Law.) Mileage is paid only when Centre staff can verify that a participant's vehicle is on site. If participants share a ride to Port Elgin reimbursement is paid only to the driver of the vehicle on site. To inquire about mileage reimbursement for other circumstances, please contact Tim Carrie, National Representative Education Department at (519) 389-3209 in advance of your program. Students attending shall be entitled to a per diem expense of $20 for each overnight stay. No advance payments should be made by the Local.

Flyers

Out-of-province participants will fly to Toronto and, in most cases, travel to Port Elgin via the Grey-Bruce Airbus service. All arrangements regarding flights and overnight hotel accommodations in Toronto must be made by the Education Support Staff (Jo-Anne Cameron, Carmen Tuomi, Line Boucher or Heather Porter); please contact your Education Support Staff if you require any changes to existing schedules to discuss the procedure.

Child Care Expenses/Attendance

Additional child care costs (over and above regular costs) arising from participation in a program will be covered upon receipt of proper authorization forms, pre-approved by the local union.

Please note that our facility is not nut-free, if you have nut allergies, please let us know prior to your arrival.

Course	Description
Aboriginal & Workers of Colour Leadership Program – Week 1	This is a two-week program designed for Unifor members who are Aboriginal and/or workers of colour. It takes place over 2 one-week sessions. This program is for members who identify and have lived their life tackling oppression in their day-to-day. It's an incredible opportunity for local unions to build the strengths and skills of members whose voices and leadership are desperately needed if we want to respond to today's challenges. For participants, this program is designed to give you the tools you need to make a difference in your union. We discuss and strategize around removing barriers to participation of, and decision-making by, Aboriginal and workers of colour. We focus on the challenges of doing anti-racism work in the union and in society more broadly. This program is intended to build the skills, knowledge and confidence of Unifor Aboriginal and workers of colour members to increase their activism and take up positions of leadership within the union.
Accident and Incident Investigation for Workplace	This course is an introduction to accident investigation. The prime objective of accident investigation is prevention – finding the causes of an accident and taking steps to control or eliminate it can help prevent similar accidents from happening in the future. Factors such as work environment, job constraints, and supervisory or worker experience must be all examined to determine what role each may have had in causing the accident. This course presents a practical approach to investigating workplace accidents by emphasizing how to find the root cause(s), conduct an investigation, and make effective recommendations to prevent similar occurrences from happening again. It includes case studies and other examples to illustrate the concepts as well as practical tools such as sample forms and checklists. We will also look at analyzing and resisting Behaviour Based Safety programs which focus on blaming the worker. Behaviour Based Safety programs weaken hard-won protections and discourage workers from taking a more active role in the union.
Arbitration for Leadership	This course is designed to provide local union representatives with a detailed guide on how to investigate and write up grievances and prepare for arbitration. Participants will learn how to consider, negotiate and implement settlements of grievances, and will also learn how to present a grievance at arbitration. The focus is on PROCESS: how to investigate facts, collect relevant evidence (including business documents and medical evidence), how to develop a theory and organize your case, and how to present it in a persuasive manner to an adjudicator. Course material includes: excerpts of case and statute law; articles written by practitioners; hands-on role playing; model exercise; and informative talks and discussions with members of the Unifor legal department. The course will also include a presentation by an experienced arbitrator who will speak about what they look for from union representatives.
Climate Change and Our Jobs	The time has come to chart a new model and direction for Canada's economy. This country can no longer afford an economic model that treats the natural environment and human beings as disposable goods. We need to rethink the way we transport ourselves, move goods, use water, fuel industries, and heat our homes and businesses. We need to build a green economy that transforms the mode of production and consumption in our society, making existing jobs more

	environmentally sustainable, and simultaneously creates new decent paying, full time, safe and healthy green jobs in all sectors of society. In this newly revised course, we will discuss strategies that will put public interest above corporate interest; a strategy that recognizes the threat of climate change; and one that sees Canada capture a larger share of the new jobs and growth spawned by the global shift to renewable energy. Through presentations from keynote speakers and interactive workshops we will debate and build consensus toward collective and individual actions that will give us the power to leave our world to the next generation in a cleaner, safer and more prosperous condition than how we inherited it. Our members demand that we protect their jobs and incomes. At the same time, our members also demand that we work hard to improve the environment. Both demands are reasonable ones to put on our union. This course prepares us for those coming debates.
Collective Bargaining (1-week course)	This week-long program focuses on the importance of preparation, research, drafting contract language and maximizing your bargaining power by developing a strategic approach to bargaining. The centrepiece of this course is a mock bargaining process that gives participants hands on practice with the following: electing a committee, determining priorities and making demands, communicating with the membership, developing strategy, negotiating wages, benefits and working conditions, and ratifying an agreement. Participants in this program will learn how to build strong committees and strengthen overall leadership skills. This course will provide bargaining committee members with a solid foundation for their work at the bargaining table.
Collective Bargaining (3-day course)	In this 3-day Collective Bargaining program we will focus on maximizing our bargaining power by developing a strategic approach to bargaining. We will discuss the importance of preparation including generating proposals from the membership, assessing the climate of bargaining, building a strong committee, determining bargaining priorities and developing a strong proposal package. Through a role play activity, participants will have an opportunity to draft contract language, negotiate an agreement and deepen their understanding around the role of the bargaining committee throughout negotiations. We will discuss the ratification process and the role of the committee in presenting a tentative agreement to members. Attention will also be given to the importance of collective bargaining as an opportunity to engage members, connect members to the union and, as a result, strengthen the local union. This program will provide bargaining committee members with a solid foundation for their work at the bargaining table.
Compensation for Ontario Workers – Level 1	Every day thousands of workers in Canada are injured or become sick from the job. Unifor works hard to implement safe work processes to limit workplace injuries and illnesses. When injuries and illnesses do occur, our members need advocates to assist them with the compensation process. This course is an introductory program designed for Ontario members who are new to the field of workers' compensation. By providing a thorough understanding of the system (and its shortcomings), we want to develop the skills and knowledge to represent injured workers in the initial stages of a claim. Let's ignite change!
Conflict Resolution –Level 1	Conflict. It's part of our personal lives and part of our working lives. Conflict is normal, natural, and in many cases, necessary for change. Although it may not always feel like it, conflict can be a resource for us. It can bring about positive change in individuals, the workplace and the union itself. But most of us could use more skills.

	This is an introductory course in making conflict productive. The labour movement has a longstanding relationship with conflict. The seeds of trade unionism are planted wherever and whenever workers stand up for their rights and present a united front to their employers. When we organize, negotiate, and enforce our collective agreements, health and safety and human rights, we engage in conflict. The union's constant engagement in conflict with management can sometimes spill over into our dealings with each other. Knowing how to work with conflict will either diminish or enrich our union experience. In this course we will explore healthy and productive models of dealing with conflict. We will look at common types of conflict and their underlying sources of tension, and learn about various approaches and strategies.
Environment - Community	We all care about our environment. But if you want to actually do something about the threats to our water, our air, our land, and our health, then this course will provide you with knowledge and skills to increase your involvement. The program outlines today's environmental challenges, familiarizes participants with the union's perspective on environmental issues and solutions; builds enthusiasm for environmental activism; and tackles the challenges and benefits of working with community groups. Participants come away with a solid knowledge base and the tools they need to campaign against profit-driven destruction, and to demand of our employers, our governments and ourselves a cleaner, healthier, safer planet.
Grievance Handling & Workplace Leadership	Are you a Chairperson, Steward or a Committeeperson? Would you like to develop or sharpen your skills? The role of workplace representative is critical to our union's strength - it is a rewarding and challenging job. In this week-long program, using case studies and hands-on practical activities, we focus on three key themes related to the role of the workplace representative: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ Technical skills (e.g. what a grievance is, how to conduct an investigation, writing and presenting grievances, duty of fair representation, how to research arbitration decisions); ○ Communication skills (e.g. listing, asking questions, formulating arguments); ○ Union building skills (e.g. actions and strategies for strengthening the union at the local and national level). This program is designed to equip workplace leaders with the skills and tools needed to defend the rights of workers and to develop an understanding of the role of a workplace representative in building a strong membership and local union.
Harassment Investigation Prerequisite: Human Rights are Workers Rights - 3-day or 40 hours	This 5-day program is designed for local union workplace representatives. The course outlines union and management responsibilities for preventing, investigating and resolving workplace harassment, and defines workplace harassment and violence under the Human Rights codes and health and safety legislation. Participants will review tools and processes for preventing and resolving workplace harassment (including informal, formal, and joint approaches). The course is designed to increase the investigator's communication skills, knowledge, and confidence to deal with harassment complaints through hands-on practice, case studies, video examples and group discussion.
Health and Safety	This is a hands-on course that members and Health and Safety representatives will find invaluable in the work they do on behalf of working people. Through exercises such as workplace and body mapping and job safety analysis, participants discuss the causes and solutions to the hazardous working conditions they face. Participants learn about regulations and legislation and visit worker friendly internet sites to gain a better understanding of members' rights in provincial and

	federal jurisdictions. Strategies for legal action and mobilization are discussed using actual case studies from Unifor workplaces and community based campaigns (e.g. prevent cancer, machine guarding and lockout, repetitive strain, etc.). Participants learn how to resolve issues at joint union-management meetings by drafting recommendations at a union caucus and presenting them at a joint committee meeting. This course includes a striking display of photographs, music, videos and quotes commemorating the history of workers' struggles for safe and healthy workplaces.
Health and Safety – 3 Day course Beyond the Basics: Tools for Health & Safety Committees	This is a hands-on course that Union Representatives and Health and Safety representatives will find invaluable in the work they do on behalf of our members. Participants discuss the causes and solutions to the hazardous working conditions workers face in the workplace. Participants learn about regulations and legislation required under the Occupational Health and Safety Act. This course will also introduce you to accident investigation methods. It presents a practical approach to investigating workplace accidents by emphasizing how to find the root cause(s), conduct an investigation, and make effective recommendations to prevent similar occurrences from happening again. The course includes real case studies and other relevant examples to illustrate these concepts. We conclude with a look at Behaviour Based Safety programs and our union concerns with these “blame the worker” systems that are being adopted by more and more employers.
Health & Safety for Women	All workers face health and safety issues at work - injuries, workplace hazards, disease and stress. Many of these issues also have a gender dimension - they affect women's bodies in particular ways. In this course, participants discuss and learn about how women's health (including reproductive health) is impacted by: toxic workplace substances; the way work is often designed to fit men's bodies; workplace stresses such as violence and harassment; and much more. The program gives participants tools and skills for assessing workplace hazards and risks, and provides participants with a sound knowledge of key health and safety principles (hazard control, precautionary principles, right to refuse, right to know, and the right to participate). The course includes an active role-play and covers key provisions of health and safety legislation from every jurisdiction in Canada. This program is geared to women who are health and safety committee members, and to all Unifor women who want to know more about how to make our workplaces and lives safer and healthier.
Human Rights	Our week-long human rights program is a must for leadership and activists in our growing, diverse union. The program is rooted in class struggles – learning how racism, sexism, homo/transphobia, and disability issues operate in our workplace and in the context of the broader capitalist economy – and learning how movements for equality have always been tied to worker's rights and struggles. This program combines our three-day Human Rights program, our one-day Duty to Accommodate course, an expanded session on workplace harassment, and a new section on human rights tribunals / legislation. Participants will become familiar with Unifor structures, resources, education programs for advancing human rights and equity struggles in the workplace.

Introduction to Ergonomics	This course has been designed to demystify the "Ergonomic Process", and allow our leadership/activists to see beyond the one dimensional aspect of injury reduction (important as this is), but to also recognize a powerful tool that you can use to begin, or continue to improve the ergonomic and psycho-social well being of our members, as they proceed through their working lives. We know the effects of poorly designed jobs. Workers Compensation statistic tells the story of workers suffering lost time injuries. In the short term this results in the loss of earning power, pain and suffering, pressure on the health care system, and (hard to define) psychological stress on the entire family. Activity groups will focus on one major Workplace Case Study, as well as drawing more general lessons from sessions such as how the body works and potential injuries, identifying ergonomic hazards, anthropometry (human body dimensions), ergonomic tools used to assess, physical demands analysis defining the physical aspect of a job, ergonomic legislation or guidelines, and sample ergonomic collective agreement language.
Planning For Your Future	Retirement is something that we are all going to face. It's better to start sooner, rather than later. The Unifor Planning for your Future course covers all the topics you need to think about to prepare for the next phase of your life. A Service Canada representative provides an interactive presentation on the Canada Pension Plan and Old Age Security. There is a section on legal planning and a local community credit union representative offers basic financial information to assist with your retirement plan. Spouses and partners are invited and encouraged to attend.
Stress: The Workplace Hazard	This course gives leadership/activists the awareness to recognize the physical and psychological hazards of workplace stress. It is designed to identify and prevent stress in the workplace rather than simply providing coping mechanisms that do not go far enough to prevent this hazard for all workers. The main focus of this course will be on actions that will provide strategies and solutions to reduce or eliminate workplace stress as a health and safety hazard. This will be accomplished through exploring real life situations and a thorough analysis of understanding how to address and modify existing situations which may be the root cause of workplace stress.
Time Study Easing the Pace of Work	This course is a basic introduction for production standards reps and in-plant reps whose job it is to challenge management's job standards. Participants receive hands-on and in-class experience to understand and learn to challenge the way that management sets production standards using both stop watch and predetermined time stand systems (PTS). This course provides participants with a basic appreciation of what a union production standards person is expected to do. Instructors include experienced Unifor production standard reps and staff.

Toxic Substances in the Workplace	This course gives leadership and activists awareness of the hazards of toxic substances. Activity groups will focus on one major workplace case study. We will also draw more general lessons from body mapping sessions such as Body Systems, how chemicals/toxic substances enter/exit the body, and the acute and chronic health effects of toxic substances. We will take a better look at our workplace, identify hazards through Workplace Hazard Mapping and develop a checklist to expedite the hazard assessment process. We will review current Health and Safety Legislation and Regulations on the control of Occupational Exposure Limits, our contract language on chemicals or toxic substance exposures, and methods of controlling the toxicity or the hazard either through the significant reduction of use, substitution or elimination of the hazard, etc.
Unifor Foundations	This is a course for members, activists and leaders. The course begins by examining the nature of work and exploring what workers have in common today. We look at how work, conditions of work, and control over work have been shaped by the development of the capitalist system from colonialism to the present day. Starting with our experiences as workers and community members, we examine various ways that governments have responded to global and corporate pressures and how this directly impacts our life experiences – from our health, to where we live and work, to what we eat, to how we spend our time. We'll explore how unions work, what we do for workers, and how unions have changed the nature of work and helped shape society. We'll investigate our own union's history and consider the challenges we face today. We'll look at basic principles of collective bargaining, union democracy, labour's role in politics, working class diversity, and union renewal. We'll include a focus on ways that working people have envisioned and fought for a more just and equal society.
Women's Advocate – Basic Women's Advocate selected/elected after Advocate program has been bargained into the collective agreement	This 40-hour course is for Advocates who have been selected or elected under a bargained Women's Advocate program. It is not open to the general membership. Training includes signs and symptoms of domestic violence and the Advocate's role. Participants will develop awareness and skills in defining abuse, risk assessment, safety planning, effective communication, and suicide prevention. There are several role-playing scenarios as well as a visit to a women's shelter.
Women's Advocate - Update (3 Day) Prerequisite: Women's Advocate - Basic	After receiving the Women's Advocate Basic training, Advocates return to their workplaces to carry out their role. Unifor offers this annual three-day update course to keep Advocates up to date on the evolving area of intimate partner and domestic violence as well. Challenging scenarios will be addressed and best practices will be explored. Guest speakers often include a lawyer from the Unifor Legal Department. Each year there is new content and a chance to build a network of Advocates from across the country.
Women in Collective Bargaining	Our union needs the voices and priorities of women at the negotiating table. Are you already a member of your bargaining committee, or interested in developing skills to take an active part in union negotiations? This course will equip participants with skills and knowledge of the union's bargaining priorities and practices. You will learn the importance of contract language, preparation and research, leadership, and maximizing your bargaining power by developing a strategic approach to bargaining. This course covers the material in the Unifor Collective Bargaining Program and focuses on viewing our agreements with an equity eye and increasing women's presence and issues at the bargaining table. A program that will connect you with women mentors who will demystify the collective bargaining process and inspire you to get involved!

Women Power and Political Action Pre-requisites for this program are one of the following: Women Activists; Aboriginal, Worker of Colour, Pride Activist or Youth Activist	Why a Women, Power and Political Action course? The answer is simple. If women are to realize true equality it means engaging in political action and challenging power. Women have made many gains over the years – gains won through political action. From the right to reproductive choice to legislative protections around harassment and violence, our gains have been won, not given. But there is still much work to do: women still earn just 71 cents to every dollar earned by men; fear of violence is a reality for far too many women; and politically, women are seriously underrepresented on city councils, provincial legislatures and federally in the House of Commons. Unifor women know that taking political action works and this course aims to equip women with knowledge and tools to continue our struggle for equality, both in the union and in the broader political realm.
Worker Referral Assistance Program Level 1	The Worker Referral Assistance Program will now be offered through the PEL program at the Unifor Family Education Centre in Port Elgin. This course is open to participants from all Unifor Local Unions. This course is for Employee & Family Assistance or Substance Abuse Representatives or new peer referral agents who have not yet had the opportunity to take part in the CLC Labour Community Advocate (previously Union Counselling) course in their communities. This is a course designed by the Canadian Labour Congress and delivered by United Way Labour Programs and Services staff. Level one is part of a three level program. Those who graduate from Level one can apply to take Level 2 in Port Elgin, or are encouraged to contact their labour council for information about Labour Programs and Services in their community and the availability of levels two and three. In level one, participants will discuss: Unions and communities working together; Your community services; Principles of communication; Interviewing and referral skills; Implementing/strengthening employee and family assistance program in the local union; Stress; Addiction and dependency; Loss and grief. A module on screening and assessment which was jointly developed with Unifor will be included in the Level One course delivered at Port Elgin. Workers and their family members have been hit hard by the economic crisis, causing a deep sense of loss, increasing stress, and increasing susceptibility to addictions and other dependency disorders (e.g. compulsive gambling). Unifor Employee and Family Assistance and Substance Abuse Representatives are the referral agents or liaisons to community resources that can help members experiencing such problems access the services they need while protecting their confidentiality.
Worker Referral Assistance Program (WRAP) Level 2 (Pre-requisite WRAP Level 1)	This Course is for previous graduates of Worker Referral Assistance Programme - Level 1, or Employee & Family Assistance or Substance Abuse Representatives/Workplace Representatives with equivalent to Level 1 experience. Level 2 provides an opportunity for workplace representatives to share the experiences they have had in the workplace and community and provides more in-depth information about specific social issues. Level 2 covers: review of Level 1, linking labour and community; understanding violence, mental health, harassment & bullying; gambling addictions; activists: caring for ourselves, and time management; Guest speaker from withdrawal management services.

Young Worker Activist

This course is designed specifically for members aged 35 and under, to further develop their skills and to ensure they can access the necessary tools to play an active role in the union. Through a mix of workshops, open forums and activities, participants have opportunities to discuss and share experiences about systemic challenges facing youth at work and in society and discuss how we can use the union as a vehicle to bring about meaningful and progressive change. The course is designed with ample time to engage in rich discussions on current issues, struggles and campaigns.
